County

Thanks to the efforts of Supervisor Tom Hudson a compromise has been worked out between the Carmel Planning Commission and the board of directors of the Community Hospital on the re-zoning of the property which the board wishes to dispose of to help finance the building of a new top of Carmel hill hospital.

County Planning Commission has agreed to grant the hospital board modified R-2 zoning for the old hospital in La Loma Terrace to allow its sale for a rest home or similar occupancy, but to prohibit its use as a motel or hotel, or the building of additional stories.

Carmel interests were not so well served at the county supervisor's meeting Monday. The supervisors passed a resolution, four to one, favoring the retention of the Coast Highway south of Carmel River in the state freeway master plan. Carmel protests to the destruction of the scenic highway persuaded Senator Fred Farr to sponsor an amendment to the highway bill which would remove the coast highway from the state freeway plan.

Supervisor Tom Hudson, who represents the Monterey Peninsula, cast the only no vote to the supervisors' resolution favoring a coast highway freeway. This is another instance of consistent over-riding Peninsula interests and wishes on the part of the supervisors who represent the thinly populated agricultural areas of the county, and it has served to reopen the question of reapportionment. Carmel City Councilman Gunnar Norberg says he intends to propose at Wednesday's council meeting that Carmel interest the other Peninsula cities in a reapportionment movement. The Peninsula and the Salinas area rate two supervisors each, while one supervisor would be sufficient to serve the rest of the county, if population were a basis of representation, Councilman Norberg says.

FENTON PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER AS IT LOOKS TO ME

If Mr. Fenton refuses to go ahead with his original plan in building his plaza shopping center without garage and service station facilities, it is obvious that these facilities were not accessory to parking or a convenience for guests as the public was lead to believe, but "primary" in subsidizing the whole project and, in my opinion, this would be an outright invasion of one of our basic zoning laws regardless of its merits or demerits.

I don't think we should make any exceptions or show any favoritism. There have been to my knowledge four others who tried to establish service stations in this zone but were refused.

I have great respect and confidence in our city councilmen and know they will not be high-pressured into settling aside a basic zoning law, for me or for anyone else.

Chaffee Finds New Parks District Boundaries A Loss, A Challenge, But Anything Can Happen Within Them

On July 1, the six districts of California Division of Beaches and Parks will change their boundaries. This reorganization will considerably affect the division's Fifth District headquarters in Monterey and its chief, Park Superintendent Jess T. Chaffee.

The territory now administered from Monterey reaches all the way down to the Los Angeles county line. After the adjustment, the district area will include nine counties, from Contra Costa and San Francisco in the north to Monterey in the south. State officials expect that a more evenly distributed work load will result in improved service to the public.

For the staff of the Fifth District the reorganization means both a loss and a challenge. Jess T. Chaffee mentioned to us some of the state parks, monuments, and beaches which will be removed from his jurisdiction and come under the authority of a new office to be established in Goleta (Santa Barbara county). It will be, for instance, Fort Tejon in Kern county, the outpost where in 1857 camels instead of horses were mounted by dragoons; Mission La Purissima near Lompoc, the most completely restored mission in California; Morro Bay; Pismo Beach with its famous clams; Tule Elk Reserve with the last remaining band of 32 native Tule elk; finally, the San Simeon State Monument.

Some of the beaches and parks that will come under Jess Chaffee's administration, however, are in certain respects of more immediate interest for Monterey Peninsula public. Among them will be San Juan Bautista, all the beaches in Santa Cruz and San Mateo counties, the Big Basin Redwood Park, and quite a few others. In San Francisco, some recently acquired old ships, such as an ancient ferryboat and a sailing vessel, will be put in original shape

City Dump Breeds Pine Killing Ips Says Leffingwell

Everything possible to save pines now growing on public and private property must be done, at the city's expense, if Carmel is to remain a city within a forest, said Commissioner Ernest Leffingwell yesterday afternoon in a report to the Forest Commission.

Best possible young trees must be planted in every available place on city property and citizens urged to do the same on their land.

Carmel Students To Enter Exhibits In S. F. Science Fair

Sunset School and Carmel High School science students are exhibiting projects in the Bay Area Science Fair which opens in the Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park on April 18 and continues through April 22.

Ovilee Groom and Tasha Doner, first place winners in the local science fair at the Naval School last month, will show Plant Growth, an experiment demonstrating photosynthesis with measurements of the results given. Under the direction of their science teacher, Fred Pitts, the two girls grew plants in the sun and in a closet, carefully measured growth and showed photosynthesis action.

Arthur Horning, another Sunset student, will show his classification and identification of 40 insects. He won an honorable mention for this project in the local fair. Arthur not only collected and identified local insects but also insects received in exchange with other bug fanciers throughout the United States and the Pacific Islands. Each insect was unidentified when he received it.

High school students Gwen Meyer and Mike Walsh are sending their exhibit, Hypothermy, to the Bay Area Science Fair. They won first place for this project in the grades 8-9-10 biological sciences section at the Monterey County Science Fair at the Naval School. Miss Evelyn Sharp is their instructor.

San Simeon Highway To Have 28 Miles Resurfacing Job

The State Division of Highways has called for bids for resurfacing portions of State Sign Route 1 in Monterey and San Luis Obispo Counties.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento on April 29, 1959 and paving operations will begin around the middle of June, depending upon when the contract is awarded to the low bidder.

The project consists of placing a one-inch blanket of plant-mixed surfacing over the existing traffic lanes on portions of Sign Route 1, the Cabrillo Highway, totaling approximately 28.8 miles in length, between Arroyo de la Cruz Creek in San Luis Obispo County, about 8.5 miles north of San Simeon, and Lucia in Monterey County.

Approximately $169,000 has been made available for the project in the 1959-60 State Highway budget.

Ips must be controlled by burning, particularly on city-owned Block 12 (The Dump) where for 20 years ips-infected trees and branches have been thrown, creating a breeding place for this small pine-engraver beetle pest, he added.

"It must be evident to all observers that our pines are dying faster than they are being replaced," he stated. "It will not be many years until there will not be enough of them left to be called a forest."

The city should replace removed trees with vigorous seedlings to create a disease-resistant forest, Mr. Leffingwell advocated. These seedlings should have long-lived ancestry so that replants may attain the beauty of Monterey pines as they grow old, he continued.

The city should obtain seed cones from the most vigorous of Carmel's beautiful old pines, raise seedlings from these cones in a nursery until they are old enough to be set out on city property. However, even then, "we shall only know one ancestor," he said.

We should graft scions from our best trees upon selected root stocks, to attain a healthy new forest, Leffingwell recommended. "I intend to work along this line, raising seedlings in pots and trying different methods of grafting until a technique has evolved," he told the forest commission. "The next step will be to secure a few scions from selected trees. These will be used for the first generation of trees from which scions

Five Tree Removals For Driveways On Council Tree Tour

Five applications for tree removal, all alleging obstruction of driveways, are on the city council's tree tour agenda for Wednesday. The council will also look at two lots at Mission and Camino del Monte which Walter Kreisler has offered to sell to the city for $1,250 for one, $2,500 for both. These lots are south of and adjacent to the city canyon park, now used by the street department for storage and dumping.

Tree removal requests: Fred Domingo, an oak on the east side of Mission between Eighth and Ninth. Karold K. Saur, oak, Crespi, southeast of Mountain View.

Philip Preble, two pines, Fifth between Junipero and Mission.

J. M. Roberts, pine, Camino Real southeast of Second.

Lloyd C. Simpson, acacia, Scenic between Ocean and Eighth.

Council meets at City Hall at 4:00 o'clock and proceeds in cars to look at the trees at the site. Decision is made at the site at the time of visit.

TEAGUE SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Congressman Charles Teague will give a report on the progress of the 86th Congress in the Armory at Monterey Peninsula College tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

Arriving on the peninsula this afternoon, he will leave again tomorrow to continue his visits to the constituents, including a public meeting in San Luis Obispo Friday night.

He flew out to his home in Ojai just before Easter and will return to Washington in time for opening of Congress on Monday.

Scale Model Of Hill Freeway Interchange At Carmel Library

A scale model of the Carmel Hill interchange is on display in the main reading room of the Harrison Memorial Library.

Loaned by Del Monte Properties, the model, four by five feet in size, shows in addition to the interchange structure, contour of hills in the vicinity and trees surrounding the California Highway Department's freeway construction at this location.

The model is causing much interest and discussion, according to Librarian Mrs. Ruth Galvin Thornburg.

PADRES SCHEDULE 20 GAMES FOR '59 SEASON

Carmel High School's baseball schedule for the 1959 season is loaded with good opposition which embraces the best teams in the A-division of the CCAL plus the top teams in the Catholic Athletic League. The Padres are defending champions in the B-division of the Coast Counties Athletic League and figure to make a severe challenge for the 1959 race. Carmel's infield is loaded with experienced performers who are used to winning ball games and are not likely to choke up when the going gets rough in league competition. Besides the league's top hitter, Ron Faia, Carmel has a solid catcher in David Hansen and a classy infield double-play combination in Ron Faia and Dave Fuller. Fuller is a transfer student from Coronado High but has extensive baseball training in the Little League and Babe Ruth League programs which prevail in Coronado.

The Carmel nine opens league competition this Friday against Coach Wayne Richard's San Lorenzo Cougars who are blessed with two of the best hurlers in the league. The Cougars were easy-pick-ins for the rest of the teams in the B-division last year but Richard's boys have picked up steam this year and figure to make the going tough for the B-division contenders this season.

The Carmel lads will throw a starting nine of Dave Hansen, Phil O'Shea, Chris Wilkin, Ron Faia, Mike Draper, Dave Fuller, Dale Dawson, Larry Dufur, and Ron Hinchcliff against the Cougars this Friday and expect good support from John Wilkin, Bud Cunningham, John Draper, Walt Helm, Mike Taylor, Mike O'Shea, and Bud Conroy. Top pitcher on the Padre nine appears to be Jim Brown who has appeared in four innings and has yet to give up an earned run. The cool and poised freshman hurler has good control and is working on a curve ball which should make life rough for the opposition.

Bill Harder, Carmel's brilliant timber topper is one of the finest hurdlers in the Coast Counties Athletic League this season and is a pretty sure bet to pick up some points in both the low and high hurdles. The stubby senior can zip through the lows in 21 flat and is flirting with 15 flat in the 120 high. Craig Smith, Frank Mayo, and Bob Dufon provide the Padres with a potent quarter-mile trio and each is capable of running a leg on the relay team.

King City, winners of their own Invitational Relays last year, again has a solid track team and will be favored to repeat its 1958 win. The Mustangs are especially strong in the sprints and field events and have one of the finest quarter milers in Northern California. Coach Rowland Dickey has good performers in every event and has the swift to put together a winning relay team.

PADRE SWIMMERS AT MONTEREY SATURDAY MORNING

A heavily-favored Carmel High swim team goes after win number two this Saturday morning at the Monterey High pool when it engages in a three-way meet with Monterey and Salinas. The Padre splashers have already taken the measure of the Toreadores in an earlier meet and figure to pack too much strength for the visiting Cowboy natators. Coach Paul Morlang has moulded one of the strongest swim squads in Carmel High's history this season and with a little more diving and relay strength could lead the Red and Gray to its first CCAL swim title. Led by Mike Cook, a talented water expert in all the events, the Padres have good sprint power with Al Eaker and Jeff Smith, have breaststroke and backstroke depth with Cook, Bert Blanks, and Bill Hicks and can put together a good relay team with the addition of Sam Farr, Kirk Johnson, and John Ley. Mike Marquard is rapidly developing into one of the best distance swimmers in the league and figures to pick up points in the 200 and 400 yard events. 1959 swim schedule:

CARMEL TRACK TEAM AT KING CITY THIS SATURDAY

Coach Fred Rainer's potent Carmel High track squad travels to King City this Saturday morning for an all-day session with some of the best thinclads in this part of the State. More than 30 schools will be on hand at the Mustang oval in quest of medals and trophies which are dished out at the King City Invitational Relays. Coach Rainer is high on the chances of distance ace Frank Wallace who can negotiate the half-mile in close to school record time and has already breezed to a 4:38 mile this season. Wallace will receive help in the distance events from David Hansen, Bob Keenan, and Bill Hicks. In the field events, the Padres will rely on Phil White and Nick Vertin in the pole-vault and high-jump and have a good hand in the discus with David Vincent and Bill Hicks.

Application Blanks For Craft Fair Available Now

Since only about five weeks remain before Craft Fair (May 11-16), the committee in charge of this non-profit sale of senior craftsmen's work, sponsored by the Carmel Foundation, urges all interested craftsmen to procure applications and mail them in as soon as possible.

Information and applications are available at all Peninsula libraries or will be sent free on request. Phone MA 4-3140 or write Mrs. Ruth Sarett, Carmel Foundation, Carmel.

Anyone making something original who lives on the Monterey Peninsula and is 50 years of age or more is eligible to take advantage of this opportunity to market his crafts and receive every cent of their sale price, for this is a community project to encourage creative senior craftsmen in a very practical way.

Last year's Craft Fair resulted in several craftsmen finding local outlets for their crafts, and three-quarters of those who brought in articles sold them during the week's sale; others received orders for later delivery. The sale will be held again at Su Vecino, Dolores at Sixth, in Carmel, as it was last year, courtesy of August Nieto, the owner.

Though articles themselves will not be accepted until the week of the sale, application blanks should be in soon so that the committee can plan space.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone

For The Glory Of God And The Good Of Trade Monterey Was Founded

BY JOHN MACLENNAN

Mr. MacLennan, former head of the history department at Santa Barbara College, now a Carmel resident, is a specialist on Spanish and early California history.

Some time ago I was sitting, dozing in the peaceful court of the Carmel Mission. The Vesper bell sounded in the belfry and I heard the chanting of the Magnificat. My soul doth magnify the Lord. And, in my dreamy state I seemed to hear the multitudes of Christians down through the ages chanting vigorously and triumphantly as they carried the gospel to Asia, Africa, and Europe; then it grew fainter and hardly audible amid the thunderous trampling of horses and the clash of arms—Jerusalem, Damascus, Antioch, Alexandria, Constantinople fell to the Mohammedans. But the song of praise never ceased. Again it became triumphant; a new world was being won by Christ. And it became clearer and stronger as I visioned the padres trudging northward with Portola and his troops along the western shore of this new world to establish on Monterey Bay a new outpost of Christian civilization, one facing Asia with its strange gods.

Yet Monterey was founded primarily for the defense of Spain's trade route with the Orient. For at least 5000 years trade with China and the Indies has been the source of great wealth and the cause of innumerable wars and unparalleled atrocities as nation after nation fought to dominate it: in turn the Babylonians, the Assyrians, the Persians, the Greeks, the Romans, the Mongolians, the Portuguese, the Spaniards, the French, and the English. Cities and nations rose or declined in wealth and power as the control of the routes to the Orient shifted.

The importance of this trade with the Orient, what it might have meant to Monterey in Spanish days, and what it means to us today, can be better understood if we examine briefly its history. For at least 3000 years before Christ, merchandise from the Orient was being transported overland to the Mediterranean world by what came to be known as The Old Silk Route, a direction rather than a definite road.

As early as 3000 BC, merchants from all over China used to gather at Kasgar in western China, where the caravans, each containing about 200 camels, were reorganized, according to their destinations, for defense against bandits. Merchants were often accompanied by sons to complete their education, for in Asia more important historical events have happened than in all the rest of the world; our civilization originated there; there ruled Sargon, the great Babylonian king, Sennacherib, whose palace covered eight acres; and the famous Hanging Gardens so that his wife would have something other than the flat land of Mesopotamia to gaze at; Cyrus the Great; Darius; David; Solomon; and Alexander the Great—to name a few; there were published the world's greatest books, and there lived and taught the greatest teachers of all times—Confucius, Buddha, Zoroaster, Christ and Mohammed.

Cities along The Old Silk Route grew in wealth and power, and throbbed with life, notably Tashkent, Samarkand, Harat (where the route from India met The Old Silk Route), Bokara, and Hamadan, and in them the arts and sciences flourished. The caravans spent several days in each important city. Their progress was slow, the round trip might last two years, and while the animals rested, the merchants spread out their wares in the bazaars and the young men visited the city's gorgeous temples and palaces, its great libraries, observatories, and also its famous colleges, many of which were established in the Dark Ages. The boys strayed into the market place where men were writing letters for those unable to write and who wanted to send back home news of themselves by the next returning caravan; where the dervishes whirled fantastically, story-tellers related the adventures of Sinbad-the-sailor, of Aladdin and his lamp; the shrill pipes of the snake-charmers were heard, and where "Little Egypt" danced.

But when the Turks overran Western Asia, and the flow of goods over The Old Silk Route ceased, these cities declined in wealth and importance. Some were laid waste in the struggle. Genoa and Venice, which had controlled the distribution in western Europe of the products of the Orient, and which had dominated the Mediterranean, became minor powers and sank into slumber. The peoples of Europe who had become accustomed to the luxuries of the Orient might have got along without China's silks or India's cottons, but not without the spices from the Moluccas, which they used in their drinks, as medicine, and also as a preservative for meats, as in our sausages of today. In Medieval Europe there was no refrigeration, ice was believed to poison food, and without spices, meat had to be eaten fresh and tough or overripe.

Portugal and Spain restored the trade with the Orient, the Portuguese by rounding Africa and the Spaniards by way of America. Manila became Spain's base for the shipment to Spain of the products of China and the Indies. But as the water route round the tip of South America was long and dangerous, the Manila Galleons put into Acapulco, Mexico. Their cargoes were transported overland to Vera Cruz and then carried to Spain under the protection of the Spanish fleet.

All Saints' Church To Continue Lenten Saturday Evensong

All Saints' Church will add to its regular schedule the special 1959 Lenten services inaugurated last month. The weekly celebration of The Holy Communion at 7:00 o'clock in the morning, and the Saturday afternoon Choral Evensong at 5:00 o'clock will now become permanently scheduled services, affording members of the parish, as well as visitors and guests, an extra opportunity for regular weekly attendance at worship, the Reverend David Hill has announced.

The Saturday afternoon Evensong is sung by the clergy and children's choirs in the medieval English plainsong setting. High school members of the parish read the Bible lessons.

The two additional services are added to the regular weekly schedule of daily Morning Prayer at 9:00 o'clock and The Holy Communion at 10:30 o'clock on Thursdays and Saint's Days.

New Water Softening Service Opens Its Office In Carmel

A new business opened recently in Carmel, Servisoft, a soft water service for the Peninsula. The organization is headed by Fred W. Swanson who has moved here from Santa Barbara. Service manager is Joseph E. Murphy of Carmel Valley.

There is no equipment for the homeowner to buy, no work to do to receive Servisoft service, no contract to sign, according to Mr. Swanson. In response to a phone call, the driver calls, installs a softener with a fresh unit every 8 to 14 days.

TIMBERS SKI AND SIT

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timbers leave this week end for Sacramento where Mrs. Timbers will "sit" with her granddaughter while Mr. Timbers takes the baby's mother, his daughter, Carol Cope, on a skiing trip to Mount Shasta.

Valley Homes And Gardens Tour

The first annual Carmel Valley Homes and Gardens Tour on April 23 is sponsored by the Carmel Valley Woman's Club. All proceeds go to the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center.

Six homes will be opened for the occasion, those of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thomas, Mrs. F. G. Cruickshank, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald, Mrs. Henry Potter Russell and Mr. and Mrs. John Frey. Free parking will be provided at Delino Place at the entrance of the Village. A fleet of station wagons will convey Tour guests from this point to the various homes. Private cars may be driven to the first four homes but limited parking and narrow entrance drives make station wagon transportation imperative at the Russell and Frey Homes.

Tea will be served at the Frey house between 2:30 and 5:00 o'clock. The Tour starts at 11:00 o'clock in the morning and continues until 5:00.

Patrons of the Carmel Valley Homes and Gardens Tour are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chapman Andrews, Hank Ketcham, Rear Admiral and Mrs. George M. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. Al Parker and, Mrs. and Mrs. Dudley Swim.

Parties For Newlyweds

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank Lamb of Pebble Beach entertained at a cocktail party in honor of their daughter, Sandra, and her husband of a few weeks, Blair Thompson Camp.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Bunn gave a cocktail party in their Pebble Beach home for Sandra and Blair.

All the income is yours

The money you invest in municipal bonds works harder for you — because it works only for you. None of the interest you earn is deducted for Federal Income Tax. You don't even report it.

If you are in a high, or even in a medium, tax bracket, the tax-free municipal interest you earn may be worth much more than you think. A tax-free yield of 3 1/2% is equivalent to a taxable yield of 7% for your income that is in the $16,000 to $18,000 bracket.

At today's market, Tax-free bonds offer attractive yields and the opportunity to increase the stability and safety of your income.

For a copy of our current offerings of State and Municipal bonds, plus a table showing how tax-free yields compare with taxable yields, fill in coupon below.

Chaffee Finds New Parks Dist. Boundaries A Loss, A Challenge

(Continued from Page One) and offered for public inspection. Looking back at the work done within the present boundaries, Jess T. Chaffee with obvious pride pointed out the San Simeon Monument, better known as the Hearst Castle. He started studying the potentialities of the castle as a state monument in 1952. The possibilities he saw made him so enthusiastic that he spent not only his office hours, but all his spare time, securing data, figuring and planning, aided by Division Chief, Newton B. Drury and by the Hearst family. The time was well used. From the opening day, last June 2 till today, San Simeon attracted over 170,000 paying visitors. The work there has not yet been completed, though. Jess T. Chaffee is sure that the attendance could be increased. The main problem is the present inadequacy of the roads from the lower area to the hill top.

Jess is a veteran of 24 years of service with state parks. His first post was Big Sur. He remembers the excitement there when in 1937 ranger Powell first sighted a flock of sea otters just off Pfeiffer Beach. At that time sea otters were considered extinct. Powell notified Fish and Game Division experts who confirmed his discovery and established patrols to protect the rare creatures. Unmolested, they multiplied, and can now be found at many spots from Monterey to Morro Bay.

Service with the Division has never been dull. Jess T. Chaffee assisted with innumerable rescue operations, forest fires, searches for lost people, and similar ventures.

He was at Big Sur when the unlucky dirigible, the Macon, went down off Point Sur. The light-house keeper there saw some unusual light, but didn't pay much attention to it. Then, from London, England, he learned what happened under his very nose. His phone rang. The London Times had received a vague report about the Macon disaster from a radio ham, and asked for confirmation and details.

There was the day in 1937 when a car went over the bluff on Highway 1 in Anderson Canyon. Jess and his crew worked all night to rescue the party. One of the passengers was the sister of the then Governor Lehman of New York. "She was so impressed by our routine work," recollected Jess Chaffee, "that she made it possible for us to get the badly needed first aid equipment for such events."

In December, 1941, Jess was on leave from Mt. Diablo State Park. Unexpectedly he received orders to report back, and was sent to an aircraft lookout station on the top of the mountain. He and his crew of three stayed there for 72 hours without relief. It was right after Pearl Harbor. Jess did not spot any enemy planes, but wasted hours and hours chasing down hysterical calls about imaginary signal lights.

After three years with the Army, Jess T. Chaffee returned to his station at Mt. Diablo as Chief Ranger. He came to Monterey as Assistant Superintendent of the Fifth District in 1947, and four years later was promoted to his present position. His office has a staff of fifteen, with 161 employees serving in the park units. Last year, operation and maintenance costs of beaches and parks under his supervision amounted to about $400,000. A similar amount was spent on improvements, development, and construction work.

As busy as the district office is with the various areas under its administration, its immediate surroundings at the present time constitute one of the most ambitious projects: It is the establishment of a zone of preservation around the Custom House in Monterey. Some of the substandard structures in the block on Alvarado Street opposite the Custom House will be removed this year.

In the Carmel area, the District office would like to expand the Carmel River Beach State Park. Parking facilities might be added there, he said, otherwise the area will be kept as natural as possible.

Working for the Division of Beaches and Parks keeps a man often away from his family. Jess T. Chaffee is no exception. There are days and weeks when he does not see his wife, Betty, and daughter, Diane, because his duties require his presence in the various state parks and monuments south

SKETCHING, WRITING TRIP

Tuesday Mrs. Zenas L. Potter and her daughter, Mrs. Philip H. Smith were driven to San Francisco by Mr. Smith. Wednesday they left by train for Minneapolis and a visit with Mrs. Smith's son, Peter Hensel, a student at Blake School. Three days in New York was scheduled next on their travels. On April 9, Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Smith sail on La Liberté for three months in Europe, returning home from Rotterdam on the Nieuw Amsterdam July 9. During this time they will visit England, France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and Holland.

Both Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Smith plan to sketch and write while they are abroad. Mrs. Potter is the author of the Mrs. Goose series of children's books, which she also illustrates. Mrs. Smith has plans to do some writing, too, and sketch with her mother.

They will spend several weeks with Mrs. Potter's sister, Mrs. Clark Williams, who lives in Paris. Mrs. Williams will also join the Carmelites in Switzerland, where Mrs. Smith expects to visit the International School in Geneva, which she attended for two years and where her son Peter will be a student next year. It is 15 years since Mrs. Smith was last in Europe but only three years for Mrs. Potter.

Mrs. Carlyle Smith of Boise, Idaho, has come to Carmel to take care of her son Phil and Mrs. Smith's daughter, Judy Hensel, while Mrs. Smith is away.

On Saturday night Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kocher and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meade Williams entertained at a farewell dinner party for Mrs. Smith in the Kocher's home at Carmel Highlands. Those who wished the traveler bon voyage in addition to the hosts and hostesses were her husband, Phil, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert, Henry F. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Chanslor and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd.

of Monterey. It is a service which asks for real devotion. Jess put it this way:

"Working so closely with the natural beauty of California, I became more and more aware of the need of preservation of our natural areas. Furthermore, the contact I've had with the monuments pertaining to California's history, created in me a great desire for preservation of our historical landmarks, our heritage."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The importance of spiritual perception in making decisions will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

"Unreality" is the topic of the Lesson Sermon. Included in the Responsive Reading are these verses from Matthew (7:19, 20): "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this selection will be read: "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make, — hence its unreality" (325:20-22).

The Golden Text is from Psalms (119:65,104): "Thou has dealt well with thy servant, O Lord, according unto thy word. Through thy precepts I get understanding; therefore I hate every false way."

Dr. Allen To Show Birds Of The North In Audubon Screen Tour

The last Audubon Screen Tour of the season will occur on April 13, at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium. The speaker will be Dr. Arthur A. Allen, the founder and Director of the Laboratory of Ornithography at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York. Dr. Allen holds the honor of being the first professor of ornithography in America. He is given credit by his colleagues for having done more than anyone else to make ornithology part of the curriculum in colleges and universities and to train teachers in this field, but his influence has spread far beyond the college campus, for his books, his articles, especially those published in National Geographic, and his color motion picture programs have been an inspiration to nature enthusiasts throughout the continent.

Dr. Allen's pictures and lecture will present sights and sounds of bird life in Labrador, of Hudson Bay tundra, and the Yukon delta. The audience will see puffins, gull-mots, and red-throated loons; ptarmigan and golden plover, do-witchers and godwits; whistling swans, emperor geese and long-tailed jaegers; strange songs and discovery of a nest long sought by ornithologists.

William H. Stringer, internationally known lecturer and news correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, will speak on The World Today to members of the Carmel Woman's Club and all others interested at the Carmel Theater on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

CAROLINE WARNER VICE-CHAIRMAN OF AGGIE PICNIC
Caroline Warner of Carmel Valley has been named vice-chairman of the annual Picnic Day Horse Show, April 18, on the University of California campus at Davis.

Cal Aggie students interested in horsemanship will put on their annual show in the campus arena at 1:00 o'clock competing in both western and English riding events. Each year the Horse Show is one of the top attractions of the big spring open house of Davis students. Picnic Day visitors number as many as 20,000.

Miss Warner, a junior majoring in animal husbandry, is the daughter of Mrs. R. A. Warner, Lambert's Ranch, Jamesburg Road, Carmel Valley. She is a 1955 graduate of Montecito School for Girls, Santa Barbara.

KENTNER PLAYS TONIGHT

Louis Kentner, piano virtuoso, who made his American debut in Town Hall in New York last November, plays this evening at 8:30 o'clock in Sunset Auditorium, presented by the Carmel Music Society.

His program includes works of Beethoven, Chopin, Brahms, Liszt, Bartok and Balakirew.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

From Mr. James Michener have come many examples of his interest in the Orient coupled with his own excellent writing, among them The Bridges at Toko-ri and Sayonara. Comes now another facet of the talent of this man, in his latest book The Hokusai Sketchbook. The Hokusai Manga or Sketches from Life by Hokusai were published in books of wood-block prints between the years of 1814 and 1876. We are told that critics disagree as to their value, but certainly they are vital, full of life of the period, and very beautiful. Mr. Michener has collected a great many of them into a book which swarms with movement, for these drawings were done from life with action aplenty. The pages are double sheets as in oriental books. This is a handsome book which might serve for a reference source to anyone working in art forms of oriental character.

Another beautiful book was recently published by the press of the University of California. Entitled Architecture of the California Missions, it has a text by Kurt Baer and photographs by Hugo Rudinger. There are eight photographs of Carmel mission, including two of the Serra Sarcophagus done by Jo Mora.

To many people the various phases and developments in modern art seem interesting and beautiful, full of meaning and significance. To others of us this is not so. Jean Arp is one of the modern ones, and we have a new book about him and his art which was issued by the Museum of Modern Art and is entitled Arp.

A Russian Princess Returns to the Soviet Union is the subtitle of a book by Princess Zinaida Schakovskaya. The actual title is The Privilege Was Mine. The author was ten years old at the time of the Russian Revolution. She tells of her early life, of the Revolution, of her return years later when her diplomat husband was appointed to Moscow.

We have My Story by Mary Astor, another well known person who insists upon telling all, just for money. We have nine new novels, including two mysteries, and one of our infrequent westerns. The western is by Will Henry and is entitled The Seven Men at Mimbro Springs. We buy few westerns and one reason may be because that television is all jammed up with them. You surely don't want to look at them and read them too! If you do, just say so.

A list of the Notable Books for 1958 is posted on our bulletin board. We didn't do so badly this year . . . most of them we had. Happy reading!

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian.

Vintage Comedy, The Royal Family, At Circle Friday

In the conviction that American comedies aren't what they used to be, the Golden Bough Circle Theatre has gone back to the year 1927 to find one for inclusion in their current subscription series. After six months of British plays at the Circle, the Americans will finally get their chance in The Royal Family, which opens tomorrow evening.

The play's title has already proved misleading to a number of persons who surmised it referred to the House of Windsor. Actually the family in question is a clan of American actors bearing a more than casual resemblance to the Barrymores of 30 years ago.

Co-author of The Royal Family is George S. Kaufman, long an exponent of the wildly abandoned school of comedy which has suffered a notable decline since the 1930's.

BORN HERE, TO LEAVE SOON

Joanne Leslie Scott, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, weighed five pounds, one ounce when she was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on March 18. Her sister Jennifer is 20 months old.

Joanne leaves Carmel soon. Her father, formerly a physicist here with Technical Operations Inc., now is employed by Lockheed in Menlo Park. Mrs. Scott and Joanne and Jennifer plan to join him in a few weeks.

Mrs. Irene Scott of Chardon, Ohio, and Mrs. Florence Christian of Riverside are Joanne's grandmothers.

AMERICAN TRUST COMPANY

announces the NEW Automatic Credit Account

This new kind of account gives you credit at the bank. It's a reserve to draw on whenever and wherever you need it, and whatever you need it for.

Once this comprehensive credit account is established, you can write a check, or checks, for any amount that you may need — up to the full limit of your credit.

Automatically, the bank advances money to cover any Automatic Credit checks you write and once a month sends you a statement of your account showing the amount of credit used and the monthly payment due.

Automatically, as you pay your bill at the bank, you restore the amount of credit available to you.

Like a business, you set up a "line of credit." This forethought means that you don't have to touch your "capital" — or dip into your savings — to meet an unexpected need.

And your Automatic Credit Account costs you nothing at all until you actually write your first check.

Here's how it works:

You don't have to be a depositor! All you do is fill out a simple application for the amount of credit you'd like to have available. As soon as your application is approved, you can use part or all of it. There are no application fees and your Automatic Credit Account costs nothing until you use it.

Your "line of credit" can be $300—or up to $3,000. Your Automatic Credit Account will be based on 24 times the amount you can comfortably repay per month. For example, if you arrange to repay $30 per month, your maximum credit will be $720. Once you start using your Automatic Credit Account you will receive a monthly statement showing the amount of your "line of credit" which is in use and the monthly payment due.

You receive a book of checks which look to any payee like an ordinary check.

How you pay back the credit used. Your monthly payments will be 1/24th of your "line of credit," or 1/10th of the actual balance due — whichever is less (with a minimum payment of $25). The charge for using your Automatic Credit Account is 1 1/4 per cent of the balance due each month, plus 25 cents for each check used.

You have a revolving cash reserve. As monthly payments are made, reducing the balance due on the account, you automatically restore the amount of credit available to you.

It's good business to be prepared! An Automatic Credit Account makes it easy to plan ahead. Come in to any office of American Trust Company and let our people tell you how this Automatic Credit Account can help you be prepared for the unexpected.

Use your credit wisely Only in exceptional cases should your Automatic Credit be used at or near the maximum amount for an extended period of time. Use your Automatic Credit Account only when necessary, for no longer than necessary, in order to keep a substantial amount of credit available for cash emergencies.

Borrow wisely for worthwhile purposes. Know the exact cost in advance. And borrow no more than you can repay out of income without interrupting your savings program.

Susie Carter Leaves Monday

Spring vacation from freshman classes at Connecticut College for Women is being spent by Susie Carter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Carter, in Pebble Beach. The Carters moved here last July but returned East to spend three months in New York before permanently occupying their new home in December.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. Carter invited 15 friends to her home for tea and to meet her daughter who returns East on Monday.

Visiting From San Francisco

Ursula Holstius of San Francisco is here this week during spring break from studies at the University of California in Berkeley, as the guest of her fellow student Robin Burnham.

Her mother, Mrs. John Holstius, is the guest of Mrs. William L. Hudson at the Hudson home below Big Sur. Mrs. A. Carol McKenney joined Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Holstius down the Coast for a two-day stay yesterday.

Mrs. Canfield Guest of Honor

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew C. Jenkins gave a cocktail party on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Jenkins' daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Canfield, before the latter sailed to join her husband in Tokyo.

Jessica Barton Easter Baby

Jessica Joyce Barton, first child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barton (Erica Franke), was born in Children's Hospital, San Francisco, on Easter Sunday morning. Her birth weight was eight pounds.

Jessica's grandmothers are Mrs. Berthe Simpson and Mrs. George Dunbaugh of Carmel. They both visited their grandchild this week and supervised the arrangements for her return, with her mother, to the Barton's new home in Sausalito.

Jessica's mother is active in Carmel art groups. She designed and painted Monterey's Christmas angels and her murals are outstanding each year among Carmel's Christmas decorations. She maintains a studio in the Craft Center where tiles, which she designs and Glen Minshall makes, are on display. Mrs. Barton also designs sets for local theatrical productions and exhibits her pictures in local shows.

Bob, Jessica's father, completed Army service a little over a year ago. He graduated from Stanford before entering the Army and is now studying at San Francisco State College for junior college teaching credentials in the humanities. He and Erica moved from Carmel to the Bay area at the opening of school this fall.

Party At Allegro Studio

Mrs. Ralph Weston gave a pre-Easter party for intermediate students at the Allegro piano-swim studio. The children played piano selections, saw movies of water ballet and acrobats, and swam in the indoor pool. Collen Cabral, eight years old, entertained with singing, dancing and acrobatics. She recently won the talent contest at the Monterey USO and has appeared on KGO-TV in San Francisco.

Flavins In New York

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Flavin drove to San Francisco on Monday morning then flew by jet plane to New York. Mrs. Flavin expects to be back in Carmel in about two weeks. Mr. Flavin was undecided at the time he left whether he would return here at the end of the Eastern visit or go to Europe.

Farrs Trade For Easter

Senator and Mrs. Fred Farr with their children, Sam, Francesca and Nancy spent Easter week in Sacramento. Their guests were Ade Bennett, Suzi Smith, Marcia McGinnis and Susie Draper.

To California

...a glass of beer
is many things

Visiting the fabulous Top o' the Mark is a "must" in San Francisco. And in keeping with the smooth, relaxed pace of the Mark, there's nothing like a glass of beer. It's most Californians' idea of the truly light refreshment.

And beer means more than light refreshment to Californians. It's a substantial force in their economy. In 1958, for example, more than $27 million of this state's revenue was made possible by the Brewing Industry... just one more reason why beer means better living for Californians.

VERY SPECIAL LOT OFFER - ALL BUT IMPOSSIBLE TO FIND

We have just listed two, adjacent 40x100 foot lots, located just three short blocks to the beach South of Ocean Avenue fairly near but North of Santa Lucia. The price of each lot is $8,000. They can be purchased separately, but we haven't had an 80x100 foot piece of land listed in this general area for over two years, and that one sold for over $18,000. Here's a chance to get a large building site for only $16,000 (or maybe a shade less.) If you need a building site, this is a good deal. If you want to diversify your portfolio, and put some capital into real estate, this is blue-chip property—better sell a few shares of A.T.&T. and put it into these two prime Carmel lots. Exclusive.

WE ALSO HAVE two of the most spectacular ocean-front pieces of land in this area. One is almost half an acre on Carmel Point. The other is a full acre in the Highlands. Both have almost unbelievable views. Exclusive.

Mrs. Fadden

Former Carmel resident Mrs. Genevieve Fadden died in a Santa Monica hospital on March 20. She had been in ill health for some time.

Mrs. Fadden and her husband, movie, TV and stage actor Tom Fadden, bought a house here in 1950. Mr. Fadden's Hollywood commitments caused them to move to Santa Monica in 1955.

A native of Oakdale, Mrs. Fadden acted in vaudeville and stock before her marriage in New York in 1925. She was writing her memoirs of New York stage life at the time of her death.

Franziska Kelb

Mrs. Franziska Kelb died on March 20 in her home in San Francisco, four days before her ninetieth birthday.

For the past 20 years, Mrs. Kelb came to Carmel each spring and fall to visit her nephew Adolf Lafrenz for several months and had a wide circle of friends on the Peninsula.

Contemporary novelist James T. Farrell will speak to the Monterey Peninsula College lecture series audience at the campus armory on April 8.

Since his first novel, Studs Lonigan, was published in 1932, he has been writing steadily, and is now well known as a literary realist. He was born in 1904 on the South Side of Chicago, and many of his famous works centered there. It is this Irish neighborhood that provides the background for the now classic Studs Lonigan trilogy, as well as the Danny O'Neill series.

Mr. Farrell has said of his writings: "in my fiction, I seek to recreate a precise, detailed and objective picture of certain features of the so-called American Way of Life. I seek to answer the questions: what happens to people?"

In his talk, he will examine attitudes among readers, and explain the difficulties of properly interpreting a book in the context of its own time, long after publication. He will discuss the responsibility of the author to truth, in what he sees, feels and imagines. "A novel," he says, "is a work of literature which is not necessarily a contribution to knowledge, but rather an imaginative recreation."

NEW LIMIT SET ON PISMO CLAMS

Pismo clam diggers will have to readjust their measuring devices starting Saturday, April 4, when the State's new 4 1/2 inch size limit on Pismo clams goes into effect.

The new regulation applies only to clams taken south of the Monterey-San Luis Obispo County line.

Elsewhere, the size limit will remain at five inches measured across the widest diameter.

Bag and possession limit will continue at 10 clams.

As in the past, all undersized clams must be returned to the holes from which they were dug, and all clambers must dig their own clams.

The new 4 1/2 inch size regulation was adopted by the State Fish and Game Commission on the recommendation of local sportsmen and conservationists and the Department of Fish and Game.

Department of Fish and Game studies show that Pismo clams grow rapidly — about an inch a year — until they reach a size of about four inches. But after that, it sometimes takes several years for them to reach the old legal size limit of five inches. Meanwhile there is considerable loss from natural causes and digging injuries.

ROBERT McKEVER APPOINTED CHEST CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN

President Rollo H. Payne of the Community Chest announced this week the appointment of Robert J. McKeever, Jr., as General Campaign Chairman of the 1959 Fund Drive in October.

Robert McKeever, President of the First National Bank of Monterey, has served as a director of the Chest, and as a member of the Monterey City Council for four years. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Bing Crosby National Golf Tournament Fund.

Town Topics ...

"Keep California Green, Paint Concrete," is the slogan which came to the mind of Carmel High School junior Herbert Myers as he drove past forest devastation at the Carmel Hill interchange site. Herb was going to Monterey to catch a bus for Los Angeles. We hope he repeated his slogan, loudly, each time as he travelled over, or by any concrete freeway development on his trip.

The round planters at the foot of Ocean Avenue have a spring haircut, bowl-type. The mesembryanthemum which spilled over the top of each planter has been shorn evenly a foot above the paving. The planters now look like heads of Japanese dolls.

Speaking of mesembryanthemum, brilliant carpets of this plant are now flowering in Carmel. Most noticeable is the flaming golden display in front of the J. W. Schoeninger home at the corner of Scenic and Stewart Drives on Carmel Point.

We are reminded of a remark made by an Irish friend of ours a few years after he came to this country. "Nasturtiums and geraniums will grow on linoleum in California," he said, "if mesembryanthemum and sweet alyssum have left any room."

"That was the prettiest flower-filled meadow when I first saw it," remarked Dr. R. A. Kocher this week end. He was referring to the Peninsula Community Hospital site, to be abandoned when the new hospital is built.

Dr. Kocher went on to tell how he drove all over this area and tramped across fields to find what he considered a perfect site for the Grace Deere Velie Metabolic Clinic, later to become our hospital.

The field he chose was part of the Hatton family's ranching property. Views of hills and ocean, sunsets and dawns, the Valley and Point Lobos, and the convenience of the field to Carmel, caused him to choose the Hatton meadow, unequalled he thought for a hospital site.

This is the story of a Pine Cone newsboy who is planning to make acting his life career.

Several years ago a little boy was offered a speaking part in a play at the First Theatre. He rehearsed with the cast a few times then said to the director, "I don't think I'm good enough yet to play with all these big people."

To his mother he confided, "I think I should take some lessons and study about the theatre." The director could not persuade the boy to take the part. His mother did not force him to keep on rehearsing.

A year ago this same boy began studying after school in a local drama class. He now has the juvenile lead, the part of Louis, Anna's son, in the current Wharf Theatre production The King and I. His name is Rodney Allison and he's a sophomore at Carmel High School.

Recently published by Doubleday is Crow, a first novel by Donald Stewart, the son of a former Carmelite, playwright Donald Ogden Stewart. Yes! That little boy you remember as a student at Sunset School before the war wrote Crow. Ames was his older brother.

ALLAIRES HAVE A DAUGHTER

Dr. and Mrs. Basil Allaire's Easter vacation in Carmel was most joyful. While they were visiting Mrs. Allaire's father, Dr. A. Carol McKenney, and Mrs. McKenney, they received word that the baby they were planning to adopt has been born. They have named the little girl Therese Marie and she is now sharing their San Francisco home with them. Dr. Allaire is a resident physician at St. Mary's Hospital in the city. He is the son of Mrs. Charles W. Allaire Sr. of Carmel.

City Dump Breeds Pine Killing Ips Says Leffingwell

can be cut in quantity sufficient for a heavy planting in our forest area," he continued.

Later Mr. Leffingwell objected to any pines being planted as screening at the city-owned dump, a suggestion of Commission Herbert Blanks, who objected to Chairman Joseph Weston's recommendation that Monterey cypresses be planted to screen the dump, in place of dwarf blue gums suggested by the planning commission.

Since the dump is infested with ips, Mr. Leffingwell said, any pines planted around it would become infested, die, and infect other trees in the vicinity. "In ten years not one would be left."

Commissioner Blanks, aware for the first time that slash was not burned by the city, asked Street and Forest Commissioner James Buffington what could be done about a city slash burning project. Mr. Buffington promised to consult with the fire chief and see if some place can be found to burn slash.

"The dump site, in a residential area, is a bad place to burn," Mr. Buffington said. Burning would also be a fire hazard in this location, he added.

Dangerous trees removed from city property are all beetle infested, Mr. Buffington pointed out, also many that fall in storms. It would cost money to haul them off and burn them, instead of adding them to the ips-infested dump pile, he continued.

"If we remove all diseased trees in Carmel, we will be run out of town," he concluded, referring to Mr. Leffingwell's suggestion that all ipsy trees be removed from public and private property. "We've got to sell this program to the public first."

"No amount of publicity is out of line," countered Mr. Blanks, concerned about Carmel's ips-infested trees, the condition of the dump and no slash burning program.

Mr. Blanks then moved that peripheral tree planting recommendations for the dump be held until some means is found to clean up the slash problem.

"Now you know why I recommend planting cypresses, instead of pines, at the dump," interjected Mr. Weston and added, "If the city does not clean up the dump, it is hard to persuade owners to take care of their trees."

Previously, Mr. Leffingwell had pointed out that the city had another ips-infested area around the post office parking lot. Harry Lachmund, present in the audience, told commissioners six trees were in jeopardy at the corner of Fourth and Lincoln Streets. During construction, earth had been dumped around them which should be removed if the trees are to survive, he said. Francis Whitaker, also present, stated the same condition existed at the dump site along Camino Del Monte.

The city's tree-planting program was criticized in a report by Chairman Weston. Not enough trees are being planted; they receive insufficient watering, pests which infect them are not controlled, he reported, braces are too tight to allow growth and thirty citizens' requests for replants have not been filled.

Mr. Weston indicated that at the next forest commission meeting a specific planting program and a budget for adequate care of city trees would be outlined and presented later to the city council.

Mr. Blanks read a report on oak moth infestation and control measures. "It is the spring season for oak worms in Carmel. Take care now," he said, and recommended spraying at this season. Larvae killed at this time will not live to be egg-laying moths in June. "Watch the tops of oak trees," Mr. Blanks advised, "That's where the moths laid their eggs. Also look for whitish spots on leaves." He advocated expert spraying and said that lead arsenic spraying kills predators of the moths and is poisonous to children and pets. "Only spray when essential," he warned.

"The city has a regular spraying program," Mr. Buffington contributed. "Hurrah!" said Mr. Blanks.

The balance of parasites and predators is destroyed by careless spraying, Mr. Lachmund, a dendrologist, informed commissioners.

John Dowdakin, state forester, will be the guest of the forest commission at their next meeting.

LAST WEEK END FOR WOMEN AND TENNESSEE WILLIAMS

This Friday and Saturday will be the final weekend of Women and Tennessee Williams, the current evening of four short plays by Tennessee Williams, now playing at The Studio Theatre in Carmel.

Three of the plays, Something Unspoken, This Property is Condemned, and Portrait of a Madonna are the most famous of Mr. Williams' one acts, and the fourth play on the program, A Perfect

High School Staff Starts Orientation Of Eighth Graders

Orientation for high school next year began for Carmel Unified School District eighth graders yesterday when High School Principal Warren Edwards, Vice Principal Miss Dorothy Wright and Mrs. Ellen Jane Down of the high school counseling staff each spent one and a half hours with one of the three eighth grades at Sunset School.

They described high school curriculum and program, answered questions and gave each pupil a handbook to discuss and study with their parents. This program is being repeated at Tularcitos School today.

Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Sunset School and Thursday evening at Tularcitos School, Mr. Edwards, Miss Wright, Mrs. Down and Charles Moody will meet with eighth grade parents under the sponsorship of the P.T.A. They will discuss the High School program and answer parents' questions at these meetings.

The week of April 13 each eighth grader will have a personal conference. A high school counselor, the student's eighth grade home room teacher and parents will meet with the student at this conference.

When school opens in September, freshmen and other students entering the High School, will participate in a program at the school, orienting them with all phases of life on the campus.

VINCE TORRAS SR. RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

Former Fire Chief Vincent Torras Sr. is a patient in Mercy Hospital in Redding recovering from a heart attack which he had on March 21. His son Vince Jr., with his wife and family, were spending a skiing weekend with Mr. Torras in his cabin in Modoc County near Mount Shasta at the time he became ill.

On Sunday Mrs. Torras Sr. went to Redding to stay with her husband until he can leave the Hospital in possibly two weeks' time.

Analysis Given by a Parrot, is a new play he was commissioned to write for the silver anniversary issue of Esquire magazine last fall.

This weekend ends the run of these four plays, and opening at The Studio April 17 will be, The Seven Year Itch, the Broadway farce by George Axelrod.
